are organizing a national seminar on:

COMBATING DESERTIFICATION & RESTORING ALGERIAN STEPPE RANGELANDS

CURRENT SITUATION, CONSTRAINTS & PROSPECTS FOR DEVELOPING PHYLOGENETIC RESOURCES

LCDRPS 2024

8 - 9 May 2024

lcdrps@gmail.com

Ibn Khaldoun University, Tiaret.

SEMINAR OBJECTIVES

- Overgrazing and drought have depleted biodiversity and productivity in Algerian steppe rangelands, notably affecting esparto layers and leading to vegetation shifts.
 - Algeria focuses on combatting steppe desertification by urgently restoring esparto layers to minimize biodiversity loss and prevent invasive species.
 - The evaluation of HCDS's three-decade restoration efforts is crucial, targeting floristic diversity, vegetation recovery, and the seed bank to refine desertification action plans.
 - This seminar aims to foster dialogue, share knowledge, and explore sustainable strategies to address desertification locally, nationally, and globally.
- The top research paper will be featured in a dedicated special edition of the esteemed journals "Géomorphologie: reliefs, environnement, processus" and "Physio-Géo - Géographie physique et environnement."
 - Research paper abstracts/resumes are welcomed in both English and French languages. However, please note that the scientific paper itself should be in French for publication in the two journals.

TOPICS

At the LCDRPS Event, we delve into geographical physics, geomorphology, and combating desertification. It's a journey of discovery and action for a sustainable future.

1

THE DESERTIFICATION OF ALGERIAN STEPPE ROUTES

The degradation and transformation of these arid grassland ecosystems into desert-like landscapes due to factors such as overgrazing, and climate change.

2

BIODIVERSITY AND INVENTORY OF PHYTOGENETIC RESOURCES.

Involve the study and cataloging of the variety of life forms and genetic resources within ecosystems.

3

AROMATIC & MEDICINAL PLANTS (PERSPECTIVES SOCIO-ECONOMIC).

Opportunities through cultivation and trade, supporting livelihoods and health initiatives while promoting conservation and cultural heritage.

4

FIGHT AGAINST DESERTIFICATION AND ECOLOGICAL RESTORATION.

Combat and fight land degradation and restore ecosystems affected by desertification processes.
